Referee celebrating with team suspended

Amsterdam: A football referee has been suspended for life for allegedly celebrating with a club he helped win by eliminating 3 players from the opposing side and granting 15 minutes of extra time, enough for the winners to score a necessary goal.

After a game in which referee Jan Smit showed three red cards to SV De Valken players and a fourth to the team coach, he let the game go one for an extra 15 minutes after the regular 90 minutes. As soon as the goalkeeper of St. George managed to score the equaliser necessary to guarantee the club's promotion to the Dutch third division, Smit whistled the end of the game.

The video of Smit celebrating with team members spread like wildfire on social media and the Royal Dutch Football Association (KNVB) had no choice but to take action.
